Boundary Violations: The Primer

No travel and lodging required.

“This is a life changing experience— personally and professionally. I took this course voluntarily to help me through a difficult time. Never imagined the amazing experience it turned out to be!”

PBI COURSE GRADUATE

Professional Boundaries and Boundary Violations: The Primer | 16 CME

The goal of the Primer-16 is to prevent boundary and ethics violations by developing and implementing a Stratified Boundary/Ethics Protection Plan to protect patients, practice, and the professional.

Designed to fulfill disciplinary mandates for professional misconduct; general boundary/ethics violations, sexual and non-sexual misconduct; and workplace harassment by combining readings, written assignments, and telephonic faculty reviews.

Course objectives include:

- Increase awareness to the spectrum of boundary crossings which place a professional at risk for a boundary violation or an accusation of misconduct
- Obtain a basic knowledge of boundary theory and the dynamics that underlie boundary violations, in order to avoid recidivism
- To develop a vigilance for early warning signs of potential boundary problems with patients to prevent their occurrence
- To be able to gain insight into professional risk factors and personal vulnerabilities by relating the information gained from the course to a boundary crossing or violation, which you may have experienced
- To analyze the multiple sources of professional power and how such power can be knowingly and/or unknowingly abused, resulting in a violation
- To develop a Stratified Boundary/Ethics protection plan to safeguard your practice, patients, and yourself
